

FELCA

What is Felca?

Felca is the forum of national language and education travel associations from all over the world. Its members include the national associations of Argentina, Belgium, Brazil, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, Kazakhstan, Korea, Mexico, Russia, Spain, Taiwan Thailand and Turkey. The members of the national associations are individual businesses whose role it is to advise and counsel students who want to travel overseas to study at a language school, high school or university.

Aims and Purposes

- To strengthen and permanise the links between existing national language and education consultant associations by providing a forum for discussion.
- To encourage and assist in the establishment of new national language and education consultant associations.
- To promote the image and credibility of language and education consultants with government departments and education bodies worldwide via lobbying, meetings and correspondence.
- To enhance cross-cultural understanding by promoting the importance of international travel for language and educational study.
- To consider the provision of a suite of services and products which would be available to all members.
- To discourage unfair and illegal cross-border practices in the language and education travel industry.
- To create a Code of Practice to establish guidelines for language and education consultants and school associations worldwide and hence facilitate harmonious and successful business relations.
- To assist the language and education consultant associations in ensuring that the interests of their student consumers are protected.

Felca Accredited

1. Comply with all applicable national laws and regulations
2. Act in the main interest of students and clients and provide objective, ethical advice.
3. Ensure that brochures and websites published by all the Felca members with the purpose of promoting their services are accurate
4. Give ongoing service and assistance to students throughout their stay abroad
5. Be financially responsible; and have open and transparent terms of business, so that all parties understand what has been promised. When a student or school has a complaint, these are mediated by the national association.
6. Agencies undergo regular audits of brochures and websites, carried out by the national Felca member associations.

Message from the President

Mr. Paolo Barilari

FELCA represents the most qualified study travel agencies from three continents. The study travel agencies that are affiliated to FELCA via their national associations are amongst the best in the international education market. There are 600 agencies affiliated with FELCA, from 15 national associations. These agencies adhere to the Felca Accreditation Code. From the FELCA members the students receive top service and advice from professional study travel agencies. If your school is interested in recruiting international students, or if you are an international student, a FELCA agency will ensure that your study travel will be everything it should be. Feel free to contact any of the FELCA board members if you would like to know more about us. We would be pleased to share our experience and the advantage of being a part of FELCA.

History of Felca

FELCA, a worldwide association of national associations of language and education consultant providers, was established in 2000. Its founding concept was that agents and industry leaders from all countries should meet to discuss their businesses, agent to agent - an idea first conceived by several representatives of national associations of study abroad organizations from Brazil, France, Germany, Spain, and Japan in the mid 1990's. By the late 1990's, FELCA's member associations comprised the education and language travel agents that spanned the regions of Asia Pacific, Europe, and Pan America, with founding members in the countries of Brazil, France, Italy, Spain, Japan, Thailand, Taiwan, and Korea. Vietnam and Turkey joined later. (Masaru Yamada, Chairman, FELCA)

France: L'OFFICE

L'Office national de garantie des séjours linguistiques
et éducatifs

Created in 1997, L'Office national de garantie des séjours linguistiques et éducatifs (L'Office) gathers 33 organizations committed to offering high standards quality language programs. Members of L'Office are companies or voluntary associations selected on the basis of a number of strict criteria which they are bound to respect. They regularly work together on different issues as L'Office acts for the development and the improvement of the profession by defending its interests and staying in touch with all the actors of the educational and touristic field.

L'Office's members offer short and long-time language placements, language schools, educational school trips, jobs and internships placement, au pair stays, cultural tours.

L'Office is supported by the French Ministry of Youth, by parents and consumer's associations and works closely with them to make sure the necessary quality requirements are met by members offering linguistic trips. This can be achieved thanks to a quality charter named "Contrat Qualité" as well as through a set of controls applied to linguistic programs that can be controlled every year through various aspects.

L'Office advises any person on the selection of a linguistic and educational trip.

Germany: FDSV

The Association of German Language Schools and Language-Tour Operators

The Association of German Language Schools and Language-Tour Operators (FDSV) is a consortium of leading German language-tour operators and language schools that have committed to compliance with the strict Quality Guidelines of the FDSV – on the basis of the European standard for language-study tour providers (EN 14804).

The FDSV provides guidance for language learners of all ages who are interested in language stays in any country. We offer concrete recommendations on all matters that need to be considered before, during and after a language stay. The Association also provides quality assurance and verifies compliance with FDSV Quality Guidelines in cooperation with an independent Scientific Advisory Board.

The aim of the FDSV is to support consumers by ensuring that its members comply with high quality standards. Furthermore, the Association creates transparency through its continuous monitoring of the market and helps language learners find the language stay that best suits their needs.

The FDSV actively promotes the achievement and maintenance of high quality standards in the field of language stays.

The Association of German Language Schools and Tour Operators (FDSV) represents the interests of its member companies to customers, policymakers and service providers in Germany and abroad. Global exchange and international cooperation are central to our work.

Kazakhstan: KAEA

Kazakhstan Association of Educational Agents

In 2005 the oldest agencies in foreign education united to form Kazakhstan Association of Educational Agents.

Today, the KAEA is proud to represent the following eight leading agencies in educational consultancy: "Anglo-Kazakh Center", "Global Link" "Globus Education", "Euroschool", "Intellect", "InterTavel", "OK Study" and «A&T Smart Study» - each has its own history of success and professional reputation.

The Association has been operating for 13 years. These were the years of improvement in professional standards recognized by foreign partners - schools, colleges, universities, language centers.

We implemented rebranding in which we devised and adopted the Code of practice that corresponds to our mission: "Professionalism. Reliability. Ethics". All members of the KAEA support professionalism in the provision of consulting services of customers in the field of foreign education, reliability in working with partners and high culture of business.

We have a lot of interesting work ahead, aiming to improve and make the dreams of Kazakhstani students come true!

Korea: KOSA

Korea Overseas Study Association

Founded in 1981, the KOSA, the Korea Overseas Study Association, is serving the international education community as the most representative association for education agencies in Korea, which is consisted of about 130 member agencies.

The KOSA has been taking an active role in upholding the highest quality standards for the industry in Korea. Its member agencies are required to abide by its own industry standards though training and education.

In order to further the depth of self-quality control, the KOSA and the Korean National Assembly together is about to introduce a new bill that requires even a higher level of quality checks, transparency, work ethics and professionalism for education agencies in Korea.

The new bill would require all education agencies in Korea to be evaluated and approved by government. To help agencies comply with such legal measures, the KOSA is implementing a training and certification process to produce professional international education counselors.

With such painstaking measures, the KOSA strives to better serve our student clients and educational institute partners abroad; therefore, the KOSA is further gaining public trust and support.

Mexico: AMTE

Asociación Mexicana de Turismo Educativo

The Mexican Association of Educational Tourism, A.M.T.E, was founded in 2012. The association aims to promote the culture of international education and seeks to professionalize the industry. The association is formed by the most important educational travel agencies in Mexico, internationally renowned schools and service providers who are innovating the education scene. We also count on the support of international organizations and all of them are fully committed to the development of our industry at a global level.

AMTE is a huge opportunity to get to know the mexican market and to create strong professional relationships. It also allows its members to stand together as an industry in front of many organizations, to share current practises and to find solutions together.

Strong work-ethic, first-rate quality information and personalized support are three words that all AMTE's members have in common. They are committed to offer the best experience to students.

Taiwan: IECA

International Education Consultants Association

IECA was officially established in 2005. It built on, and took over, all of the previous work done by TOSA, and today IECA is the sole, government-recognized voice for agents in Taiwan.

IECA has been working with the Taiwan education authorities to better structure and regulate the study abroad consulting industry. Major accomplishments include the introduction of a standard contract that agents must use when contracting with students, and the establishment of professional liability insurance for agencies wanting to conduct study tour groups.

In addition, IECA assists consumers with dispute resolution with overseas schools or IECA members. IECA has also successfully hosted multi-national and agent education fairs since 1994, making its events one of the longest-running and most effective promotional events in Taiwan.

Turkey: UED

The Association of International Education Counselors of Turkey

UED is the first association which joins together reliable International Educational Consulting Companies of Turkey in its structure. UED was established in 2001 by participation of 15 reliable study abroad counselling companies committed to maintain reliability, high quality and professional standards in their services. During the passing years, UED welcomed educational agents located in Turkey who meet and abide by strict quality standards outlined in its bylaws and today it has 30-member agencies.
